

Physics Beyond Colliders – Exploring Beyond the Standard Model

Prof. Dr. Jörg Jäckel

Institut für Theoretische Physik, Universität Heidelberg

Particle physics is often equated with high energy collider experiments. However, over recent years it has become increasingly clear that high intensity and high precision experiments offer significant, complementary opportunities to explore for physics beyond the Standard Model. In this talk, we will look at a range of these experiments and the discovery opportunities they present.