

Generation of narrow peaks in spectroscopy of charged-particles

Prof. Dirk Dubbers

Physikalisches Institut, Universität Heidelberg

In spectroscopy of charged particles, narrow peaks may appear in initially smooth continuous spectra if magnetic transport of the particles is involved. As such unexpected peaks may be misinterpreted as new physics, their generation is investigated for various experimental configurations.